Bespins

1. The payment should be held on the IABC international website.
2. The website advertises jobs and links job applicants to the actual employing website, the IABC Regina only advertises and links the two parties.
3. The dark theme and themes for colour blind is a good idea as it enhances the user experience for more people of the community.
4. We “developers” shouldn’t handle any of the sign up, it would just be a redirect to what is already in place.
5. Sharing information on Twitter is a good idea.
6. Scheduling information is a good idea.
7. We “developers” should consider the fast response and make sure the website admins and members are able to communicate quickly.
8. The website should require low maintenance, that implies the backend must be simple and solid.
9. No repetitions should be in the website without a good reason.
10. Navigation bars are expected to be organized simply and efficiently for smoother user experience.
